London Audiology Consultants Turns 30!

This fall London Audiology Consultants (LAC) celebrates a 30 year anniversary. It was in the fall of 1985 that Margaret Brac and Catherine Moore decided to start LAC. The idea came from their desire to provide patients with more integrated hearing health care. By dispensing hearing aids as well as prescribing them, patients could then receive all services in one place from the same professionals.

LAC's first office space was a converted file room in the office of a local Ear Nose Throat physician. From that small space LAC expanded first to larger rented premises and then in 2003 purchased and renovated the house at 387 Burwell Street. This became LAC's main office location. In 2010 LAC expanded again, adding extra testing space at 390 Colborne Street directly across the parking lot from the main Burwell office.

From humble beginnings in a small file room with only 3 staff members LAC now has an office complex on Burwell Street with 4 audiologists, a hearing instrument dispenser, an audiology assistant and 5 administrative staff.

At LAC our mission has always been to improve each person's quality of life with better hearing. It was our motivation when we started the practice in 1985 and is what we still strive for today.
